

Collaborative Artefact 3. The Apron

Stained or otherwise broken men's shirts do not have to be discarded, they can be repurposed for a new lease of life. The S4S West Midlands' participants transformed old men's shirts into vintage style aprons, and passed one to the S4S Cornwall participants for decoration. In their embellishments, the S4S Cornwall participants sought to illustrate their journey on the project thus far, adding examples of their knitting and early experiments with sewing.
